Playhouse Guild Seeks Aid of City

Council Asked To Finance Plan To Rebuild Theater

The Palm Springs Playhouse Guild yesterday asked the City Council to approve plans for a complete changing of the Play-house, which is located at the Polo Grounds.

At the meeting Major General Victor Bertrandis, speaking for the Playhouse Guild, told the council of a plan by the Guild to remodel the Playhouser - with

Gogerty Hits Critics of P.D. Airpark

Petitioners Seek 'Personal Gain' Says Hotel Owner

Hotelman Hank Gogerty today charged that a campaign to force abandonment of his Palm Desert Airpark was fostered by a group of anonymous individuals seeking personal monetary gain.

Gogerty said that the petitions calling for abolition of his airpark are the work of individuals "who are more interested in making a fast buck than the development of their community."

IN A STATEMENT drafted as an answer to this new anti-airpark program, Gogerty also challenged the Coachella Valley Junior Col-lege District Board of Trustees to keep its bond campaign promise" by ordering a re-appraisal of the Odell Ranch college site.

But Gogerty's remarks principally directed at the anonyous members of the "Citizens which last week circulated petitions asking the county to close the Airpark because it allegedly poses a safety hazard for the rapidly growing Palm Desert com-

Council Debates Anro Payment

Struggling under the question of what to do about payment to the Anro Construction Company, the City Council yesterday indicated that it would not "settle" for anything less than a full rebate of all expenses, plus the cost to the city of time that the new sewer line on North Palm Canyon Drive was not operational. The council yesterday received a letter from the law firm of Slaughter, Schlesinger and Schlecht proposing a program for a 10-year trust fund under the control of three trustees, and the money, along with any interest paid, would be used to pay for any repairs to the sewer line.

Sacramento Rally

A huge trailer rally to be held during the spring of 1961 when the Legislature is in session is being planned by The Travel Trailer Clubs of America.

The purpose of this rally is to lobby for a satisfactory bill to pre-sent to the Legislature at that time that will raise the 45 mile per hour speed limit which was imposed on vehicles towing a travel trailer.

and some estimates place the trailer-fan money left here during the rally at over a million dollars. Last Friday night the first This bill was passed by the last trailer-fan money left here during the rally at over a million dollars.

Met's Diamond Jubilee Starts Off 'Lukewarm'

By FREDERICK M. WINSHIP NEW YORK (UPI)-The Metropolitan Opera opened its diamond jubilee season Monday night with a lukewarm new production of stiff competition from the mutual admiration society in the bar.

Although we're far from the pounding surf, the flags ought to be out today-October 27, Navy Day, started by Teddy Roosevelt along about 1907.

All of the boys in town who have various designs tattooed on their arms or other portions of their anatomy, should give pause and thought to the day. THIS MIGHT WELL be a

That was the day before mass automotive transportation. There were surface trolley lines everywhere.

And no smog.

THEN THEY STARTED tearing up the rail lines. Substituted buses. The trolley lines didn't give out with noxious exhaust. The buses do. There was no smog then, there is now.

The answer should be simple. The reason I say it could be an important anniversary here is that at the rate our traffic is growing, we may be let in for

There is a shortage of pumpkins in our part of the country this year. There will not be enough to go around on Hal-

That is surely a blow to the goblin-and-ghost and the doorbell-ringing industry. You cannot conduct a proper Halloween with plastic pumpkins. A proper Halloween requires a real pump-kin — something you can cut the top off and get your hand up to the wrist in gooey fiber and seeds.

(WE WASH THE seeds and roast them in butter and salt. They make you wise. If you grind your teeth, roasted pumpkin seeds will cure you of it.) The reason we are short of pumpkins is because the farmers are not raising them. No

PUMPKIN PIES these days come out of bakeries. Or, at best, out of a can. I don't know what our great-grandmother would say to such a thing. She was an expert pumpkin maker. And the pumpkin pies we had down on the farm in nois were the best in the

"For every pie she took a big cup of that rich, golden pumpkin, a cup of milk — not skimmed, either — a couple of beaten eggs - Annie did that two tablespoons of sugar and as much New Orleans molasses, a level teaspoon of each of salt, cinnamon, ginger; a sprinkle of nutmeg, some lemon extract; it filled those pans more than an inch deep.

"AUNT POLLY SAID the eggs were for thickening. Uncle Joe said the ginger was to put a 'kick' in it and the nutmeg is a reminder of Tom and Jerry. Can you beat it?

"We had a big hanging shelf in the cellar tied to the ceiling with a rope, about 8 feet long and 2 feet wide; filled it full of pies and let them set to ripen."

HEAVENLY DAYS, it makes me hungry just to hear about it. I don't suppose anybody cooks pies like that any more. Although Grandpa said they were better when he was a boy, I cannot believe it. They must ave been better when I was a boy - I could have eaten an entire pie by myself.

No wonder the farmers are discouraged and do not raise body to make a pie like that these days.

Suspicious of Feuds

HOLLYWOOD — I'm usually suspicious of "feuds" on a soundstage because the news sent out about them by the studio publicity men ALWAYS include the name of the movie. But the Anna Magnani-Marlon Brando feud on "The Fugitive Kind" is definitely not The Phony Kind.

It started with Anna herself. She selected the director, Sidney Lumet, who is Gloria Vanderbilt's husband and, like Gloria, a non-conformist who refuses to shoot pictures in Hollywood. Anna likes non - conformists (it was one of them, Roberto Rossellini, remember, who rocketed her to fame in "Open City").

BUT WHEN LUMET "nonconformed" to the extent of blowing off that Marlon is sure to win an Oscar nomination for his picture, and didn't even mention the tempestuous Italan as a likely candidate, that's when she blew her top. She says she wouldn't pick him again if he AND Rossellini were the last two directors on earth. All Lumet says is, "I'm glad.

Metro is dusting off the piano stool used in "Butterfield 8" by the character named Eddie who has an illicit affair with Taylor for none other than Liz's own husband, Eddie Fisher. I hear Liz insisted on it, just as Debbie Reynolds once insisted on Eddie co-starring with her in "Bundle of Joy."

IT'S LIZ'S LAST for Leo the Lion, of course. She'll start "Cleopatra" for Fox and that highly-publicized $1,000,000 in April. Sir Laurence Olivier and Stephen Boyd are already being measured for their togas as Liz's leading men, Julius Caesar and Marc Anthony, respec-

How much studio publicity can you believe? Now I'm told that $1,000,000 isn't really cash at all but a percentage deal. In other words, if it's a big hit Liz'll get her $1,000,000, not otherwise. Oh well, it made exciting reading for one or two editions anyway.

Look out when a gal tells you that you're made for each other, Bob Hope warns you bachelors: "She's planning altera-

HENRY BLANKE, one of Hollywood's greatest producers and certainly one of its most colorful, is leaving Warner Bros. to freelance after 37 years, the longest I've ever heard anybody's been with any studio! One of Henry's pictures was the great "Treasure of the Sierra Madre," with the late Walter Huston. Somebody told Walter that Henry had seen the actor's rushes and was so moved by them he cried. That was the cue o to make that famous crack: "So what? Henry cries at newsreels!" I didn't believe it until I ran into Henry in Rome two years ago (he was producing "The Nun's Story" there) and asked him how Audrey Hepburn was doing in the role of Sister Luke.

SURE ENOUGH, as Henry started telling me, right out in front of everybody on the Via Veneto, the tears started spurting! A few of his other great pictures: "The Story of Louis Pasteur," "Of Human Bondage" and the yet-to-be-released

"The Miracle." Josh Logan landed Charles Boyer for "Fanny," in place of Fredric March, when March SWINGIN'EST NEW two in Tinseltown: Lana Turner and Ray Anthony, Mamie Van Doren's estranged spouse. The gentleman prefers blondes and who can blame him . . think YOU'VE got troubles? The 39-year-old Lana will age from 18 to 65 in her new movie, 'The Streets of Montmartre, and 37-year-old Jo Van Fleet will be 80 for all three months of Eila Kazan's "Swift River schedule.

Latter is about the Tennessee Valley Authority and sounds dull but whoever heard of Kazan making a dull picture, from "Rebel Without a Cause" to "Baby Doll"

THE BIG BRASS at Allied Artists clamped down and ordered no more publicity interviews for Corinne Calvet, their star in "Bluebeard's Ten Honeymoons," when she gave out with this choice morsel at a London press conference:

I dined with Ronnie Reagan and his wife, Nancy Davis, at Chasen's - and couldn't help wondering why Reagan's movie bosses never let some of his great wit creep into the parts he played, instead of casting him (usually) as a stuffed-shirt hero. Walling into the place, we were stopped by a tableful of oillionaires from Texas who wanted his autograph. Reaching our own table, Ronnie cracked, Know everybody I just met could buy and sell everybody

Noel Coward tells me he never goes to see Russian plays like "The Sea Gull." Not because they're gloomy, says the master of drawing room edy - "but because almost all of them have a stuffed bird sitting on top of a chest of drawers that I keep expecting to squawk, 'I'm the title of this Work was reported this week as rapidly being finished at the Gordon Howard project, the former Desert Outpost on East Ramon Road, in the form of a swimming pool, 25 by 50 feet, a wading pool for children, and a tennis court for the tenants of the revived project.

The Desert Sun is cooperating with city officials in soliciting a name for the new ball park, rodeo grounds and public grounds. It's now called The Field (formerly Field Club).

Palm Springs Girl Scout Council will hold an Open House Nov. 4 at its new building located on the North End School grounds.

OCTOBER 27, 1949

The beautiful, new La Paz Guest Ranch, with 22 units, will open for its first season Nov. 6, under the management of William Heiser and Mrs. L. J. Mooney.

Palm Springs Lions Club has taken over the project of supplying milk to underprivileged children at the Palm Springs Grammar school. The county welfare department discontinued this practice.

Palm Springs High School now has 135 students enrolled.

OCTOBER 27, 1939

Herbert Samson, secretary to Cree and Chaffey, recently returned to Palm Springs after spending the summer in Canada.

Workmen are busy on the Community Church lawn. Larger bowls have been made around the trees, the yard completely raked, and winter grass will be sown.

Many improvements were made at El Mirador during the summer. The dining room was enlarged to double its former size, many rooms were redecorated and baths added, and a new entrance from Main Street constructed directly to the hotel entrance.

By OSCAR FRALEY United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) - Doug Jones, an intelligent young light heavyweight, stared thoughtfully at his taped hands in the cavern underneath Madison Square Garden and the voices of the blood hungry drifted in faintly from up-stairs as he considered the ques-

Why, you had asked him, did he want to be a fighter?

Because Doug Jones is no boy as the fight business goes. He is 22, is married and has a twoyear-old daughter. And he has had only nine scattered bouts in two years while trying to get a chance to prove his fistic talents.

"I guess," he said finally, looking up with level brown eyes, "it has to be mostly because it is the only way I have a chance to make a lot of money

MONEY HAS to be the answer when you have a family and you work every day as a stock clerk in a grocery firm for $45 a week. It is what drives young Doug to the gymnasium every evening for an hour, sends him out at other times selling tickets to the bouts for an added percentage and, like on this night, kept him sitting anxiously waiting second by second and hour by hour to be ready for an "if bout" which might bring

An "if bout" is a product of television. If the early part of the card is wiped out too quickly by knockouts, the "if" fighters get into the ring to use up the idle time before the televised bout. If the video bout ends quickly, the "if" fighters come on afterward to stretch out the evening for the
